

Shopping in Siem Reap

ANGKOR NIGHT MARKET

With various night markets springing up across town we recommend the original, Angkor Night Market, with some 240 stalls brimming with colourful souvenirs from stone carvings to cheap t-shirts to silk shawls and the ubiquitous Khmer Kroma (checked cotton scarves).

Old Market Area, just off Sivutha Rd, Road 60

ANGKOR HANDICRAFT ASSOCIATION

Founded in 2011, the Angkor Handicraft Association was set up to promote locally produced creative crafts. The collection of small stores at this souvenir market offers traditional artisan wares including silver, bronze statues, bags, bamboo products and hand-woven textiles.

Road 60, just off the road to Angkor Wat

MADE IN CAMBODIA MARKET

Every weekend between 4-9 pm a delightful market sets up outside Shinta Mani Hotel showcasing locally produced items. Internationally recognized artisans participating include Eric Raisina Haute Texture, Theam's House and Eric Stocker Laquer. Live entertainment, food and drink are available. The market runs from August through May.

Shinta Mani Hotel, Oum Khun Street, French Quarter

OLD MARKET (PSAR CHAS)

An eclectic array of items is found at the Old Market, located in the heart of Siem Reap. Silk, carvings, souvenirs, spices, DVDs, paintings and trinkets abound. Delve deep into the middle of the market where the many food vendors provides a sensory experience.

Downtown Siem Reap

PSAR LEU

For an authentic local market experience head to the sprawling Psar Leu where there are few tourists but lots of exotic edibles, designer knock-offs, inexpensive clothing, fresh produce, and gold jewellery. More chaotic than Old Market, with motorbikes weaving through the stalls, English is not widely spoken here so expect to do lots of pointing.

National Road 6

Shopping in Siem Reap

ARTISANS D'ANGKOR

With excellent quality sandstone, silver, wood, and silk products, gain insight into the remarkable skill and techniques required in producing traditional handicrafts as you are guided round the flagship workshop and showroom where artisans fastidiously form delicate crafts.

Stung Thmey Street, West of Sivutha Rd

MCDERMOTT GALLERY

American fine art photographer John McDermott has two galleries in Siem Reap exhibiting his striking sepia-toned images that dreamily play with light. McDermott's photography focuses on the wonders of the temples of Angkor and cultural heritage sites in South-East Asia.

The Passage, Old Market Area & FCC Hotel

LOUISE LOUBATIERES

A high-end lifestyle boutique offering contemporary decorative home wares and accessories including lacquer, ceramics and textiles along with handpicked antiques and unusual items from Louise's travels.

7 Hap Guan Street (Kandal Village)

THEAM'S HOUSE

A quirky mix of art studio, atelier and gallery, Theam's House overflows with artisanal products, lacquered panels, paintings and sculpture. Theam, who is helping to revive the Cambodian craft sector, trains artisan apprentices who can be observed at work on vibrantly colourful objets d'art on site.

25 Veal Village, Kum Kokchak

SENTEURS D'ANGKOR

Senteurs d'Angkor prides itself on sourcing all of its products in Cambodia, from the raw ingredients to the packaging materials. Their workshop and shop offer a wide range of souvenirs from spices to natural soaps and aromatic candles.

National Road 6 & Old Market Area

TRUNKH

An eclectic mix of clothing, home decor, furniture and vintage collectibles scoured from the Cambodian countryside curated by partners Doug and Marianne. An interesting and diverse collection that's fun to browse, Trunkh also has a store in Phnom Penh.

11A Hap Guan Street (Kandal Village)

Shopping in Siem Reap

ERIC RAISINA

Madagascar born and French-trained haute texture designer Eric Raisina offers an exquisite handmade collection of clothing blending African, European and Asian influences throughout his silk designs.

Charming City or FCC

WEAVES OF CAMBODIA

Luxurious 100% fine hand-woven silk scarves from renowned American weaver and textile expert Carol Cassidy. The silk fabrics, in a range of rainbows and more muted shades, are woven by disabled artisans including landmine survivors in Preah Vihear province.

Visitor Centre at Angkor Hospital for Children

SMATERIA

Fair trade bags, laptop cases, purses, eyeglass cases and fashion accessories made from eco-friendly commonly recycled materials.

Alley West, Old Market Area

MEKONG QUILTS

Mekong Quilts specializes in high quality, hand-stitched bed covers, pillow covers, soft toys and home accessories. A social enterprise providing sustainable employment to women in Cambodia and Vietnam, all profits are returned to the villages where the quilters live.

Sivutha Rd, Old Market Area

SAMATOA

Samatoa makes quality fabrics and apparel from natural fibers in collaboration with international designers. An industry leader in producing natural fibers and beautiful designs, Samatoa has received the UNESCO Award of Excellence for its sarong made from lotus fabric.

98 Pithnou Street

AMBRE

Designer Romyda Keth's sumptuous and richly colored silk clothing and accessories are on display here. The internationally acclaimed Cambodian designer trained in Paris and returned to Cambodia to launch her fashion line in 1999. She has boutiques around the world.

Hotel J7, National Road 6

Shopping in Siem Reap

GARDEN OF DESIRE

Creative and contemporary elegant jewellery handmade from silver, gold and natural stones sourced in Cambodia - all limited edition pieces by Cambodian designer Ly Piseth.

The Passage, Pub Street Alley

SAOMAO

Working with local artisans, this social enterprise is home to a collection of traditional and contemporary handmade silver and brass jewellery, inventively re-working bullets into jewellery.

Street 9, Opposite Old Market

CLAYCULT CAMBODIA

Each piece of jewellery at Claycult is made of individually crafted and hand painted clay beads. Claycult is a social enterprise providing training and employment to Cambodian women. Sold in several shops in downtown Siem Reap you can also visit their showroom to see the jewellery being made.

Off Wat Bo Road